CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR FIRST COMMUNICANTS!

In this period of " sede vacante " ( empty chair) when there is no Pontiff, we must all pray that the right man is chosen as 267 th successor to St Peter, the designated leader of the Apostles by Christ. What is the prime qualification for the next occupant of the Fisherman's chair?

Let's look at today's Gospel; surely no more fitting or providential could there be. Jesus asks Simon Peter a simple question:

" Do you love me?"

That is the question.

Not: how many languages can you speak? Are you a conservative or a liberal, a progressive or an orthodox believer...

" Do you love me?"

And may the chosen candidate be able to say..

" Yes, Lord, you know everything; you know I love you."

At St Teresa's, four of our young people are making their First Communions: as they receive the Body and Blood, the Soul and Divinity of Our Lord, may they too say in their hearts:

"Lord, you know everything; you know I love you. "

And may we all be able to say the same.

Next week: Masses as usual on Monday/ Thursday/Friday. No Mass on Tuesday at Holy Trinity or Wednesday at St Teresa's. Rosary Friday at usual time with Holy Trinity First Communion class at usual time on Friday afternoon.

Adoration/ Benediction is suspended until to the end of the Easter season, and we will resume the Wednesday/ Thursday routines after Pentecost.
